VALUATION APPROACHES AND METHODOLOGIES

- As the MLPL is wholly-owned subsidiary of the MDOL, no consideration shall be payable pursuant to the Merger by Absorption of MLPL with the Transferee Company, and the equity shares held by the MDOL in MLPL shall stand cancelled without any further act, application or deed.
- As per the Scheme, the equity shareholders of SJPPPL will be issued 'Equity Shares' of MDOL as consideration for the proposed amalgamation. In accordance with IVS, to arrive at the fair share exchange ratio, it is required to determine the fair value of equity shares of SJPPPL and fair value of equity shares of MDOL. These values are to be determined on a per share basis and are to be determined independently without considering the proposed transaction. The values are then to be assessed on a relative basis to determine the share exchange ratio.
- For the purpose of valuation, it is necessary to select an appropriate basis of valuation amongst the various valuation techniques. It is universally recognized that valuation is not an exact science and that estimating values necessarily involves selecting a method or approach that is suitable for the purpose. The application of any particular method of valuation depends upon various factors including the size of company, nature of its business and purpose of valuation. Further, the concept of valuation is all about the price at which a transaction takes place i.e., the price at which seller is willing to sell and buyer is willing to buy. Accordingly, a fair and reasonable approach for valuing the shares of the company is to use a combination of these methods.
- IVS 301 read with IVS 103 specifies that generally the following three approaches for valuation of business / business ownership interest are used:
  - Cost Approach
  - Market Approach
  - Income Approach

Cost Approach - Net Asset Value (NAV) method

- The value under cost approach is determined based on the underlying value of the assets which could be on book value basis, replacement cost basis or on the basis of realizable value. Under NAV method, total value of the business is based either on net asset value or realizable value or replacement cost basis. The Adjusted NAV method determines the value of the business by replacing the book value of the assets with their fair values, to the extent applicable. NAV methodology is most applicable for the business where the value lies in the underlying assets and not the ongoing operations of the business.
- We have applied the NAV method to determine the value of shares of MDOL. However, we have not assigned any weight to it as the Company is a going concern and this method does not capture the future earning capacity of MDOL.
- We have not considered the NAV method to determine the value of shares of SJPPPL as this method does not capture the future earning capacity of the business

Income Approach - Discounted Cash Flows (DCF) method

- Under the Income Approach, business is valued by converting maintainable or future amount of cash flows to a single current amount either through discounting or capitalization. DCF Method seeks to arrive at the value of the business based on its future cash flows generating capability and the risks associated with the said cash flows. FCFE or free cash flows to the firm ("FCFE") represents the cash available for distribution to both the owners and the creditors of the business. Risk-adjusted discount rate or Weighted Average Cost of Capital ("WACC") is applied to free cash flows in the explicit period and that in perpetuity. Adjustments pertaining to debt, surplus/non-operating assets including investments, cash & bank balance and contingent assets/liabilities and other liabilities, as relevant, are required to be made in order to arrive at the value for equity shareholders. The total value for the equity shareholders so arrived is then to be divided by the number of equity shares to arrive at the value per equity share of the company.
- We have considered the DCF method to determine the value of shares of MDOL and SJPL as the going concern assumption is valid, cash flows are estimable for future period and relevant projections, inputs and assumptions are available for valuation. Moreover, DCF method is more scientific in nature and hence has been considered for valuation.

Market Approach - Comparable Companies' Multiple (CCM) method

- Under CCM Method, the value of shares of the subject company is determined on the basis of multiples derived from valuations of comparable companies. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences between the circumstances. The Comparable Companies' Multiple Method arrives at the value of the company by using multiples derived from valuations of comparable companies, as manifest through stock market valuations of listed companies. This valuation is based on the principle that market valuations, taking place between informed buyers and informed sellers, incorporate all factors relevant to valuation. Relevant multiples need to be chosen carefully and adjusted for differences, such as growth potential, past track record, size, company dynamics, etc.
- We understand from the Management that there are no companies listed on stock exchanges operating in similar business line as SJPL thus making the method ineffective for use for the said valuation purpose. Considering this, we have not considered the CCM method of valuation to determine the value of shares of SJPL.
- However, based on the discussion with Management we understand that there are comparable listed companies operating in the similar business line as MDOL and hence we have considered CCM method of valuation to determine the value of shares of MDOL.

Market Approach - Market Price method

- Under the Market Price method, the market price of an equity share as quoted on a recognized Stock Exchange is normally considered as the value of the equity shares of that company, where such quotations are arising from the shares being regularly and frequently traded. Generally, market value is reflective of the investors' perception about the actual worth of the company. However, in certain situations, the value of the share as quoted on the stock market would not be regarded as a proper index of the fair value of the share especially where the market values are fluctuating in a volatile capital market. Further in case of amalgamation, where the value of shares of one company is required to be evaluated against the value of shares of another company, the volume of shares traded and available for trading on the stock exchange over a reasonable period would have to be of a comparable standard.

- Regulation 164(5) of Chapter IV of SEBI ICDR Regulations reads as under-

For the purpose of this Chapter, "Frequently traded shares" means shares of the issuer, in which the traded turnover on any recognised stock exchange during the 240 trading days preceding the relevant date, is at least ten per cent of the total number of shares of such class of the shares of the issuer.

Explanation: For the purpose of this regulation, 'stock exchange' means any of the recognized stock exchange(s) in which the equity shares of the issuer are listed and in which the highest trading volume in respect of the equity shares of the issuer has been recorded during the preceding 90 trading days prior to the relevant date."

The equity shares of the Company are traded on the BSE and NSE. However, as per Explanation to regulation 164(5) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, the exchange on which higher trading volume of equity shares during the preceding 90 trading days prior to the relevant date, is recorded, is to be considered for the pricing computation.

Since, MDOL is a listed company and equity shares of MDOL are traded on NSE over a reasonable period, we have considered Market Price method to determine the value of equity shares of MDOL. We understand that the shares are frequently traded as per SEBI ICDR Regulations.

- We have been informed by the management of MDOL that the date of the board meeting is 18th June 2024. We have therefore considered the relevant date as 14th June 2024 for the said purpose. We have considered equity share prices upto i.e., trading day preceding to the relevant date for undertaking the valuation analysis.
- We understand that the shares of MDOL are traded on BSE and NSE both and we have therefore considered the trading volume and share prices as per NSE to compute the Applicable Minimum Price based on the regulations 164(1) of the SEBI ICDR regulations. We have determined the applicable minimum price under ICDR Guidelines as below Annexure

SHARE ISSUANCE RATIO AND CONCLUSION

- The basis of the amalgamation of SJPL into MDOL would have to be determined after taking into consideration all the factors and methods mentioned in this Report. Though different values have been arrived at under each of the above methods, for the purposes of recommending the fair exchange ratio of equity shares it is necessary to arrive at a final value for each of the Companies' shares. It is however important to note that in doing so, we are not attempting to arrive at the absolute equity values of the Companies, but at their relative values to facilitate the determination of the Fair Equity Share Exchange Ratio. For this purpose, it is necessary to give appropriate weights to the values arrived at under each approaches / methods.
- The Fair Equity Share Exchange Ratio has been arrived at on the basis of a relative equity valuation of the Companies based on the various approaches / methods explained herein earlier and various qualitative factors relevant to each company and the business dynamics and growth potential of the businesses of the Companies, having regard to information base, key underlying assumptions and limitations. We have independently applied methods discussed above, as considered appropriate, i.e., NAV Method and Discounted Cash Flow Method for SJPL and NAV Method, DCF method, CCM Method and Market Price Method for MDOL, and arrived at the assessment of the value per equity share of SJPL and MDOL.
- In determining the fair value per share of MDOL we have used NAV Method, DCF Method, CCM Method and Market Price Method and have assigned Nil, 25%, 25% and 50% weights to each method respectively.
- As per the Discounted Cash Flow Method, the fair value of the company is determined based on its future ability to generate future cash flows. The company has been constantly growing in terms of revenue and expects the same growth in future at a steady rate. Hence, we have assigned 25% weight to it in determining the fair value per share of MDOL.
- In the comparable companies method, the value of the company is determined by comparing the company's relative valuation with that of other companies of the same industry, size and risk. The competitors identified are of different size and risk. Hence, we have assigned 25% weight to Comparable Companies Method
- In Case of frequently traded shares of a company the value of the shares is also determined as per regulation 164A of Securities and Exchange Board of India (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations 2018 (ICDR Regulations). Since Mangalam Drugs is a frequently traded company we have used Market price method. We have assigned 50% weight to the Market price method as this reflects the market sentiments in a better way.
- In determining the fair value per share of SJPL we have used NAV Method and DCF Method and have assigned 100% weights to DCF Method.
- As per the Net Asset Value Method, the fair value of the company is determined by subtracting the total fair value of liabilities from the total fair value of assets. In case of SJPL, the assets majorly include the investments made in various entities. Since we have considered the fair value of investments in determining the value as per DCF Method, we have assigned Nil weight to NAV Method.

- As per the Discounted Cash Flow Method, the fair value of the company is determined based on its future ability to generate future cash flows. The company is expecting to grow in terms of revenue and margins in future. Hence, we have assigned 100% weight to it in determining the fair value per share of SJPPPL.
- In the Comparable Companies' method, the value of the company is determined by comparing the company's relative valuation with that of other companies of the same industry, size and risk. There are no directly listed comparable peers of SJPPPL of similar size and risk hence, we have not considered the CCM Method to determine the fair value per share of SJPPPL.
- In light of the above and on consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined hereinabove referred to earlier in this Report for the proposed amalgamation and upon the proposed Scheme becoming effective, in our opinion, we recommend Fair Equity Share Exchange Ratio for the amalgamation of SJPPPL with MDOL as below:

MDOL shall without any further act or deed, issue and allot 265 Equity Shares of Rs. 10/- each to the Eligible Members of SJPPPL for every 1 (One) Equity Share of Face Value of Rs. 10/- each held by Eligible Members of SJPPPL.
